

1. Why EA

I played EA's games for more than 20 years. The voice that 'EA sports, this is game.' is in my ear often. As a big fan for soccer and Red Devil (Manchester United), most of my spare time is related to soccer. So, I played FIFA on my switch almost everyday. As a person who likes soccer most, it is the best job for me to participate in the development of best soccer games. I think FIFA is the best soccer video game during last 8 years. It's better than the Winning Eleven now. So I'm really excited about this opportunity.

2. EA Game

1) Road Rash

First game I played with my father.

2) Need for Speed (Updated hardware)

3) FIFA

4) Red Alert

3. Why this position

During my previous internship at Cisco and CopperTree Analytics, I had the opportunity to use big data tools like Hadoop, spark, Pytorch and visualization tools like Platfora(which is quite similar as Tableau), matplotlib and seaborn. I think this an ideal position for my education and work background.

And most important is personal interest. Soccer is my favorite hobby, working at FIFA team is like a dream.

4.

40 degrees centigrade
